Pregnancy Support Questionnaire

Northern Health offers prenatal, postpartum, early childhood, and family services for pregnant parents, infants, young children, and their families. These services are provided by Primary and Community Care interprofessional teams across northern BC.

Primary care nurses (PCNs) work with doctors, nurse practitioners, midwives and others health professionals to deliver these services. We offer assessment, screening, support, health promotion and education, and referral to community resources.

Printed: Fill out the form inside of this brochure

You can submit your questionnaire two ways:

- In-person: Leave completed questionnaire with your primary care provider (e.g., family doctor, midwife, nurse practitioner) at your prenatal appointment or drop it off at any health unit
- Mail: To health unit address on the back of this brochure

Your questionnaire will be reviewed by a PCN who will contact you to discuss what supports and resources you are interested in.

All pregnancy parents who complete this questionnaire will be offered a list of pregnancy resources.

Prenatal, Postpartum, Early Childhood, and Family Services

Primary care nurses (PCN) will help you:

- Receive pregnancy information and resources
- Make healthy choices in your pregnancy
- Learn about breastfeeding and caring for a new baby
- Get the physical and emotional support you need
- Find community resources that are right for you

Pregnancy Support Questionnaire:

- Complete the questionnaire on the inside of this brochure and return it to your care provider or health unit
- Your questionnaire will be reviewed by a PCN who will contact you to discuss which supports and resources you are interested in
- Your information is confidential and will become part of your medical record

All pregnant pregnancy parents who complete this questionnaire will be offered a list of pregnancy resources.
